"FLOW: THE ART SHOW" (Through Jan. 6)
It's not a flow chart, it's "flow art." Come check out this collection of pieces featuring artistic responses to marine life, ecology and conservation issues as a prelude to next year's opening of the Georgia Aquarium. SunTrust Plaza, 303 Peachtree St.; for more information, call 404-816-9777.

"ABSENCE OF HUMANITY: THE HOLOCAUST YEARS" (Through Jan.10) Warning! You'll need to bring a box of tissues to get through this emotional yet poignant exhibit. It features photos, documents and personal memorabilia from Atlanta families who survived the horrors of the Holocaust. Emphasis is placed on the universal themes of respect for difference, responsible citizenship and commu-

HIGHLIGHT

HONDA BATTLE OF THE BANDS (Jan. 22)
If you loved the movie Drumline, this is your chance to see (and hear) the real thing. Throughout football season, 40 marching bands from Historically Black Colleges and Universities strutted their stuff at games across the country. Fans in the stands got to vote online for their favorites. Now the top 10 bands that demonstrated the best showmanship, musicianship and fan interaction in the first leg of the competition are poised for an all-out musical war. All eyes will be focused on the drummers, flutists, dancers and, of course, the drum majors as they take to the field. The band that gets the crowd moving and out of their seats earns bragging rights until the next face-off. Georgia Dome, 1 Georgia Dome Drive; for more information, call 312-986-1260 or visit hondabattleofthebands.com.
